$25,000 Hotel Stock Sold in First Few Hours

Campaign for $150,000 to Match New York's $600,000 Off to Flying Start With Workers Busy and Many Investors Calling At Chamber of Commerce Rooms.

As a direct and immediate result of the advertisement and announcement in The Freeman Monday night of the Chamber of Commerce being in readiness to sell stock in the new hotel, sales aggregating $10,000 were made before noon today to persons who came direct to the Chamber of Commerce rooms for the purpose of buying.

Before 11 o'clock one member of the committee had sold $5,000 of stock. Other committee members were too busy to make reports, but from fragmentary information obtained it was apparent at noon that $25,000 would be a conservative estimate of the amount of stock sold up to that hour.

The three days' drive to raise the one-fifth part of the capital which is all that Kingston is asked to provide for the new $750,000 hotel on the General George H. Sharpe property at Albany and Clinton avenues, was planned at a meeting held at the Chamber of Commerce rooms Monday night and was opened this morning with subscriptions to the seven per cent cumulative preferred stock in the new hotel corporation.

Subscription lists are in the hands of workers who attended the meeting who are actively soliciting today, and anyone who wishes to learn further details or to enter their subscription for stock in the new hotel corporation may sign the lists which they have or may telephone to the Chamber of Commerce (call 504).

Subscription lists for the seven per cent preferred stock, for which one share of common stock is given with each two shares of preferred that are bought by the subscriber, are now in the hands of the following solicitors:

Judge Joseph M. Fowler
Dr. Mark O'Meara
Arthur J. Burns

A Business Proposition.
Judge Joseph M. Fowler, chairman of the committee appointed more than a year ago whose efforts have resulted in the consent of the Sharpe heirs to sell the famous property for a hotel site and in interesting Oscar Tschirky and some of his New York friends in the proposition to the extent of the $600,000 which they agree to furnish, presided over the meeting, which was largely attended.

In laying the matter fully before the meeting, Judge Fowler said that at last a plan had been formed to meet the greatest need of Kingston, which was for more hotel accommodations. The proposition of a new, big hotel ought to go through merely as a matter of civic pride, but he did not intend to dwell on that phase of the situation but would only talk of the new hotel as a business proposition.

The success of any business proposition depended on several elements, principal among which was the opportunity for a given thing at a given time. Everyone believes there is an opportunity, and a big one, for a new hotel. Admitting the opportunity, the next question was the conduct of the business under honest and efficient management.

Oscar's Interest Aroused.
It had taken the committee a year to secure a site. There was one site—and only one—which appealed to everyone as the proper place to build a new hotel. And that was the Sharpe property. The Sharpe family had not been anxious to sell; it was not entirely a business proposition with them, and in giving an option to the committee Judge Sharpe was largely influenced by his interest for the city in what appeared also to him to be a pressing need. The agreed price, $60,000, was satisfactory to him and seemed entirely fair to the committee.

The committee had been approached often with numerous plans both for financing and building the hotel, but thought it should seek the advice of someone who had been successful as a hotel man and naturally sought Oscar Tschirky who was famous all over the world as manager of the Waldorf-Astoria and who himself for some years had been a resident of Ulster county.

Mr. Tschirky had called in a number of his friends and they had become interested immediately, and a plan had been evolved which seemed fair to all and insured absolute fairness as a business proposition.

JOHN CARNEY SCARED FAMILY

Made Several Attempts Before Day-break This Morning to Enter the Home of Lewis Hilowitz on Albany Avenue—Other Cases in Police Court.

About 4:30 o'clock this morning the family of Lewis Hilowitz of 567 Albany avenue, near the city line, were awakened by some one attempting to open the door on the front porch, and then finding it locked trying to open all of the windows on the lower floor.

Mr. Hilowitz aroused out of a sound slumber went downstairs and looking out on the porch saw a stranger trying to open the door and called to him asking him what he wanted. The stranger made no reply although Mr. Hilowitz called to him several times.

Finally Mr. Hilowitz called up the police department and Officer Sime Wood hurried to the scene and placed John Carney of this city under arrest.

Later in police court Carney, who said he had been a resident of Kingston all his life, was unable to explain his actions aside from the fact that he had been drinking.

Judge Schirck gave him another chance, and discharged him with a warning.

A stranger, who later gave his name as Vincent Greggink, was found drunk and asleep on Mill street. Officer Vredenburg. He will have a chance to explain his reasons for sleeping on the sidewalk later.

Morris Miller, a local taxi driver, was arrested by Officer Robert Healey on a charge of soliciting fares for his taxi while standing more than five feet away from the machine. He contributed $5 on his plea of guilty.

Only in case the entire $150,000 to be taken here is subscribed.

What Proper Management Means.
There could be no absolute guarantee by the committee or by anybody else. There is no absolute guarantee in any business, no matter how big or how small it may be. But in this hotel proposition there is a promise of honest and efficient management. The fact that Mr. Tschirky and his friends go in the proposition on the scale they do assures not only honest but also efficient management, which is the foundation of success.

President Burns's Offer.
President Arthur J. Burns of the Chamber of Commerce said the drive for the new hotel within the limited time necessary to complete it means hard work, but he did not think there would be any trouble in raising the amount because of the widespread interest displayed since the announcement of the new hotel had been made, and the applications for stock which had been made already. Personally, he would offer to match anyone in getting subscribers to the new hotel stock, to any amount.

Workers Report Wednesday Night.
There was full discussion of the plan outlined by Judge Fowler and of the plans proposed for the drive, with the result that the subscription blanks were taken by the workers mentioned above, who will meet again on Wednesday night at the Chamber of Commerce rooms to report and plan further for the last of the drive.

Under the agreement between the Kingston committee and the New York associates, the board of directors of the new hotel company by three out of seven directors. Checks which must be given at the time of signing the subscription for twenty five per cent of the total amount to be paid by the subscriber should be made payable to the Kingston Chamber of Commerce, or to Cornelius Treadwell, treasurer. The Chamber of Commerce rooms will be open evenings during the drive.

Under this plan, Kingston is asked to subscribe to $150,000 of the preferred stock. With each two shares of preferred stock this bought there will go one share of the common stock, so that for each $1,000 investment in preferred stock the investor will receive ten shares of the seven per cent cumulative preferred stock and five shares of common stock. Thus, with the 1,500 shares of preferred stock to be sold here will go 750 shares of common stock. Kingston therefore will hold nearly one-third of the common stock. The New York friends agree to take the rest of the preferred and common stock.

This plan gives control of the hotel to the New York friends, which seems right since they assume the large risk, but it is to their interest to make the common stock pay dividends which it will not do until the accumulated dividends on preferred stock have been paid.

Oscar's Friends Put Up $60,000.

The New York parties undertake to complete the payment for the Sharpe property, the first payment of $10,000 being due next Monday. But they do not want to make that payment, to go in the enterprise alone, unless they know the people of Kingston are interested and have subscribed for the $150,000 of stock. Kingston is not limited to $150,000 but may take as much more preferred stock, with the common stock, as it wants to take, and the subscriptions of Kingston people shall not be paid over until the Kingston subscriptions shall have totaled $150,000, and not until the New York associates have provided for the purchase of the property and on an addition cause to be paid to the corporation sums equal to the sums paid into the corporation by the Ulster county subscribers.

Terms of Payment.
The terms of payment for the stock subscribed here are:
25 per cent on signing contract.
25 per cent on August 1.
25 per cent on September 1.
25 per cent on October 1.
The subscriptions become obligations.

TREATY'S FRIENDS WIN IN IRELAND

Backers of Government of Collins and Griffith Have 42 Seats in New Parliament Against 23 for De Valera Faction—Labor and Independents Divide 16

Dublin, June 20.—The Irish constitutionalists made a clean sweep in the Free State general election, defeating the Republicans (anti-constitutionalists) in all parts of the country, according to further tabulation of the vote here today.

The constitutionalists support the Anglo-Irish peace treaty and favor the ratification of the Irish constitution by the Dail Eireann. The Republicans repudiate both.

Eamonn de Valera, chief leader of the Republicans, has not yet announced his intentions. He is awaiting a decision of the Republican executive council and Roderick "Rory" O'Connor, leader of the irregular faction of the Irish Republican army. It is possible that they may decide to oppose the constitution by force of arms instead of allowing the Dail to decide upon it.

The returns from Cork show the election of two constitutionalists. The Countess Markiewicz, supporter of De Valera and an advocate of war, is reported to have been defeated.

Liam Mellows, who was the chief military aide of "Rory" O'Connor in Galway, was defeated. He ran on the Republican platform.

Darrel Flegis Johnson, well known Dublin labor leader, was elected on the laborite ticket.

Further tabulation of the vote early this afternoon, increased the strength of the non-Republican forces in the Dail. At 1 o'clock the count stood:

Constitutionalists 42 seats.
Anti-Constitutionalists 23 seats.
Laborites 7 seats.

If the constitutionalists, independent and laborites were to form a coalition, it would give them tremendous strength in the new parliament.

Four representatives of Trinity College were elected.
Arthur Griffith, founder of the Sinn Fein and president of the Dail Eireann, was elected in County Cavan. He is one of the main leaders of the constitutionalists.

WATER BOARD WRITES C. OF C.

The board of water commissioners through Dr. E. H. Loughran, a member of the board, has written the following letter to the Chamber of Commerce, thanking the organization for its offer of assistance in keeping the city's water supply uncontaminated. The letter follows:

Dear Sir: Your letter of June 13, 1922, received, offering the service of your board in assisting in the prevention of the pollution of the waters of the Sawkill stream at Woodstock, N. Y. I take this means of saying that the water board wishes me to thank you, and appreciates your willingness to help in keeping our drinking water pure and uncontaminated by impurities. I remain, Yours very truly,
E. H. LOUGHRAN, M. D.

Up to Date Dairy.

BIG AUTO BUSES RACE EACH OTHER

Chief of Police Wood Receives Complaints of Busses Speeding On Albany Avenue—One Bus Driver Arrested and Fined.

Chief of Police Wood in police court this morning stated that the department had received several complaints of big auto busses racing each other on Albany avenue. As a result of the complaints Fred Huber, driver of one of the Saenger busses, was arrested for driving 31 miles an hour on Albany avenue on Monday afternoon. The arrest was made by Officer Kuehn. Huber pleaded guilty and was fined $5.

Chief Wood stated that the Saenger and Glaseco busses when they met on the avenue raced each other into the city. "It is bad enough for touring cars to race," said the chief, "but when big auto busses loaded with passengers risk the lives of those who ride in them it is time something was done to stop the practice."

The chief stated to a Freeman reporter that if any more complaints are received he will report the busses to the public service commission and that it would mean that their licenses to operate would be revoked.

James G. Rymph of Pleasant Plains, was arrested Monday by Officer Hess on a charge of parking his car for two hours on John street. He forfeited $5 cash bail for failure to appear in court today.

MIDNIGHT IN FRANCE REPRODUCED AT RIFTON

Work of transforming the iron bridge over the Walkill at Rifton into a structure that will appear in "When Knighthood Was in Flower" as an ancient stone arch bridge over a river in France 400 years ago, is progressing rapidly. When completed the picture will be taken after midnight some night. Horsemen will ride over the bridge and do a daredevil leap into the creek, lighting with flash and rain, poured from a fire steamer, will pump down in torrents. The action takes place at midnight in France and will actually be photographed at Rifton after midnight, a bit of realism made necessary because only at that hour will the required amount of electric current from the Dashville power station be available.

GARDNER SLASHED WIFE'S CLOTHING

Cedar Street Man Adopted Rather Unusual Method to Prevent His Wife From Going Through His Trousers' Pockets After Cash—Settled for Damage.

W. H. Gardner of No. 60 Cedar street has rather unusual methods of preventing a common practice of wives in general who go through hubby's pants pockets looking for loose change. Claiming that his wife had taken $5 from his pocket the other night, he helped himself to a knife and proceeded to slash the contents of her wardrobe.

This morning the police department was called by Mrs. Gardner and Sergeant Phinney responded and returned to the city hall with husband and wife. Later the two told their stories to City Judge Harry E. Schirck in his private office and as a result of the conference no arrest was made, but Mr. Gardner paid his wife $15 for the damage he had done.

Mrs. Gardner informed the court that she had no desire to live any longer with her husband but that she could get along much better without him. She said that of some of her dresses, but had also slashed up two new umbrellas in the house.

After Gardner had reimbursed his wife for the damage he was warned to be more careful in the future.

WOODSTOCK ART GALLERY OPENS

Due to a general demand for a higher standard of exhibition, the Woodstock Art Association has amended its constitution to provide for the appointment of a committee of supervision, made up of active members, whose duty it shall be to govern the exhibits intended for the gallery. All are workers in the community are invited to submit the best examples of their work and the committee acting as a selecting group rather than a jury will then determine whether the work submitted merits exhibition. The object of this procedure, it has been pointed out, is to exclude work of manifest inferior craftsmanship. Composed as it is of five members of the "Radical Group" and five of the "Conservative Group" this committee will aid in carrying out the initial purpose of the Art Association "To give free and equal expression to the conservative and radical elements because it believes that a strong difference of opinion is a sign of health and an omen of long life for the colony."

The art colony of Woodstock is a unique and fortunate among art colonies in representing a great diversity of aesthetic opinion and variety of artistic expression, including painting, sculpture, the crafts and applied arts. The Art Association was formed with an idea of bringing together in an annual exhibition all these arts. To house this exhibition a spacious gallery was erected and opened to the public daily last year. In view of the prominence of several of the exhibitors last season, tourists were attracted to the gallery from all parts of the country.

On the committee of supervision recently appointed are the following well-known artists: George Bellows, John F. Carlson, Frank S. Chase, Konrad Gramer, Andrew Dasburg, Birge Harrison, H. Leith-Ross, Henry McFee, Eve W. Schutze, and Eugene Speicher. To the board of directors for this year the following have been added: Alice Wardwell, Carla P. Atkinson, Eugene Speicher and Allan D. Cochran. H. L. Tonkinson is president and H. Leith-Ross will act as secretary and treasurer.

The gallery of the Association opened June 19 and will close October 15. The hours are 9-12 a. m. and 3-6 p. m., excepting the period for change of exhibition. There will be three exhibitions during the season, the duration of each to be five weeks.

Arthur S. Tompkins of Nyack, grand master of the grand lodge of Masons of New York state, has denounced the Ku Klux Klan and warned members of the Masonic fraternity in his jurisdiction that they cannot be both Masons and members of the Klan.

"Masonry will not tolerate the doctrines of the Ku Klux Klan within its sacred precincts, and should a Mason so far forget his obligations to his fraternity, his God, to his fellow men and to his fellow Masons, he will be expelled from the ranks of the organization," said the grand master. "This right to remain a member in good standing of the Masonic fraternity would be seriously questioned."

"LABOR" NOW FULL OF STRIKE TALK

Official Organ of Unions Openly in Favor of It for First Time—Railroad Men's Leaders Prepare Strike Headquarters in Chicago.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.
Washington, June 20.—The United States will soon be in the grip of the greatest labor combine in history, with industry practically at a standstill, if the tentative alliance of railroad unions and coal miners is carried out, labor leaders declared here today.

The miners and railroad workers on a strike at the same time and each refusing to settle until the other secures satisfactory settlement—that is the chief proposal under consideration at Cincinnati at conferences between John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers and executives of the railroad unions, according to authoritative information reaching here.

If such a program is followed and victory is achieved, nationalization of both the coal mines and the railroads probably will be demanded as a price of settlement.

If the miners back the railroad workers to the extent of refusing to settle their strike until the railroad men return to work on their own terms, it was admitted the leaders of both groups face jail on charges of conspiracy. There is a strong possibility, it was stated, that the leaders will go to jail to force a showdown.

Headquarters for the executives of the railroad unions will be established in Chicago June 24, to make all preparations for a strike, which is to occur on July 1.

"Labor," official organ of the American Federation of Labor, railroad unions and the Big Four brotherhoods, is full of strike talk. The policy of this paper is dictated by the rail union chiefs. Previously, whenever there had been outside strike talk, the paper "soft pedaled" the idea of a walkout, following the policy of the union leaders. Today, it definitely stated that there will be a general railroad strike.

A general staff, composed of railroad executives, will direct the strike from the general headquarters in Chicago, according to present plans. Other quarters will be established at strategic points throughout the country.

If the threatened railroad strike should be effective as the unions plan it to be, the striking miners would benefit. It is pointed out, since it would mean virtual stoppage of coal production. On the other hand, if the miners held out until terms were made also with the striking railroad workers, operations of the railroads would become impossible through lack of coal, and industrial paralysis would result. When this situation developed, nationalization of mines and railroads would be demanded.

QUICK BONUS FAILS IN TEST VOTE

GARDINER MAN SEEKS A DIVORCE FROM WIFE.

Matter Came Up in Newburgh on Saturday.
On the application of Earle H. Houghtaling, counsel for the defendant, Justice Seeger in supreme court special term in Newburgh Saturday, granted an order for a bill of particulars in the suit of Daniel J. Toohy of Gardiner, Ulster county, against Margaret Toohy, for an absolute divorce.

Toohy accuses his wife of intimacy with one Terry Hess in Gardiner on August 1, 1921, and February 5 and February 11, 1922, and of intimacy with him elsewhere at divers times. The order for a bill of particulars requires him to specify the time and places. DeWitt C. Ostrander of Chiltondale is the husband's attorney.

The couple were married in New York, January 5, 1912, and are the parents of four children—Charles W., born February 27, 1914; Frances, born November 7, 1915; Margaret, born October 16, 1917, and John F., born November 26, 1919. Dublin, June 20.—The Irish constitutionalists made a clean sweep in the Free State general election, defeating the Republicans (anti-constitutionalists) in all parts of the country, according to further tabulation of the vote here today.

The constitutionalists support the Anglo-Irish peace treaty and favor the ratification of the Irish constitution by the Dail Eireann. The Republicans repudiate both.

Eamonn de Valera, chief leader of the Republicans, has not yet announced his intentions. He is awaiting a decision of the Republican executive council and Roderick "Rory" O'Connor, leader of the irregular faction of the Irish Republican army. It is possible that they may decide to oppose the constitution by force of arms instead of allowing the Dail to decide upon it.

The returns from Cork show the election of two constitutionalists. The Countess Markiewicz, supporter of De Valera and an advocate of war, is reported to have been defeated.

Liam Mellows, who was the chief military aide of "Rory" O'Connor in Galway, was defeated. He ran on the Republican platform.

Darrel Figgis Johnson, well known Dublin labor leader, was elected on the laborite ticket.

Further tabulation of the vote early this afternoon, increased the strength of the non-Republican forces in the Dail. At 1 o'clock the count stood:

Constitutionalists 42 seats.
Anti-Constitutionalists 23 seats.
Independents 9 seats.
Laborites 7 seats.

If the constitutionalists, independents and laborites were to form a coalition, it would give them tremendous strength in the new parliament.

Four representatives of Trinity College were elected.

Arthur Griffith, founder of the Sinn Fein and president of the Dail Eireann, was elected in County Cavan. He is one of the main leaders of the constitutionalists.

BIG AUTO BUSES RACE EACH OTHER

Chief of Police Wood Receives Complaints of Buses Speeding On Albany Avenue—One Bus Driver Arrested and Fined.

Chief of Police Wood in police court this morning stated that the department had received several complaints of big auto buses racing each other on Albany avenue. As a result of the complaints Fred Huber, driver of one of the Saugerties buses, was arrested for driving 31 miles an hour on Albany avenue on Monday afternoon. The arrest was made by Officer Kuehn. Huber pleaded guilty and was fined $5.

Chief Wood stated that the Saugerties and Glasco buses when they met on the avenue raced each other into the city. "It is bad enough for touring cars to race," said the chief, "but when big auto buses loaded with passengers risk the lives of those who ride in them it is time something was done to stop the practice."

The chief stated to a Freeman reporter that if any more complaints are received he will report the bus lines to the public service commission and that it would mean that their licenses to operate would be revoked.

James G. Rymph of Pleasant Plains, was arrested Monday by Officer Hess on a charge of parking his car for two hours on John street. He forfeited $5 cash bail for failure to appear in court today.

MIDNIGHT IN FRANCE

REPRODUCED AT RIFTON

Work of transforming the iron bridge over the Wallkill at Rifton into a structure that will appear in "When Knighthood Was in Flower" as an ancient stone arch bridge over a river in France 400 years ago, is progressing rapidly. When completed the picture will be taken after midnight some night. Horsemen will ride over the bridge and do a daredevil leap into the creek, lighting will flash and rain, pumped from a fire steamer, will pour down in torrents. The action takes place at midnight in France and will actually be photographed at Rifton after midnight, a bit of realism made necessary because only at that hour will the required amount of electric current from the Dashville power station be available.

GARDNER SLASHED WIFE'S CLOTHING

Cedar Street Man Adopted Rather Unusual Method to Prevent His Wife From Going Through His Trousers' Pockets After Cash—Settled for Damage.

W. H. Gardner of No. 60 Cedar street has rather unusual methods of preventing a common practice of wives in general who go through hubby's pants pockets looking for loose change. Claiming that his wife had taken $5 from his pocket the other night, he helped himself to a knife and proceeded to slash the contents of her wardrobe.

This morning the police department was called by Mrs. Gardner and returned to the city hall with husband and wife. Later the two told their stories to City Judge Harry E. Schirck in his private office and as a result of the conference no arrest was made, but Mr. Gardner paid his wife $15 for the damage he had done.

Mrs. Gardner informed the court that she had no desire to live any longer with her husband but that she could get along much better without him. She said that he had not only cut the sleeve out of some of her dresses, but had also slashed up two new umbrellas in the house.

After Gardner had reimbursed his wife for the damage he was warned to be more careful in the future.

WOODSTOCK ART GALLERY OPENS

Due to a general demand for a higher standard of exhibition, the Woodstock Art Association has amended its constitution to provide for the appointment of a committee of supervision, made up of active members, whose duty it shall be to govern the exhibits intended for the gallery. All are workers in the community are invited to submit the best examples of their work and the committee acting as a selecting group rather than a jury will then determine whether the work submitted merits exhibition. The object of this procedure, it has been pointed out, is to exclude work of manifest inferior craftsmanship. Composed as it is of five members of the "Radical Group" and five of the "Conservative Group" this committee will aid in carrying out the initial purpose of the Art Association "To give free and equal expression to the conservative and radical elements because it believes that a strong difference in opinion is a sign of health and an omen of long life for the colony."

The art colony of Woodstock is rather unique and fortunate among art colonies in representing a great diversity of aesthetic opinion and variety of artistic expression, including painting, sculpture, the crafts and applied arts. The Art Association was formed with an idea of bringing together in an annual exhibition all these arts. To house this exhibition a spacious gallery was erected and opened to the public daily last year. In view of the prominence of several of the exhibitors last season, tourists were attracted to the gallery from all parts of the country.

On the committee of supervision recently appointed are the following well-known artists: George Bellows, John F. Carlson, Frank S. Chase, Konrad Cramer, Andrew Dasburg, Birge Harrison, H. Leith-Ross, Henry McFee, Eve W. Schutze, and Eugene Speicher. To the board of directors for this year the following have been added: Alice Wardwell, Carla P. Atkinson, Eugene Speicher and Allan D. Cochran. H. L. Tenkinson is president and H. Leith-Ross will act as secretary and treasurer.

The gallery of the Association opened June 19 and will close October 15. The hours are 9-12 a. m. and 2-5 p. m., excepting the period for change of exhibition. There will be three exhibitions during the season, the duration of each to be five weeks.

"Masonry will not tolerate the doctrines of the Ku Klux Klan within its sacred precincts, and should a Mason so far forget his obligations to his fraternity, his God, to his country and to his fellow men as to become affiliated with this anti-American organization known as the Ku Klux Klan, said the grand master, "his right to remain a member in good standing of the Masonic fraternity would be seriously questioned."

"LABOR" NOW FULL OF STRIKE TALK

Official Organ of Unions Openly in Favor of It for First Time—Railroad Men's Leaders Prepare Strike Headquarters in Chicago.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Washington, June 20.—The United States will soon be in the grip of the greatest labor combine in history, with industry practically at a standstill, if the tentative alliance of railroad unions and coal miners is carried out, labor leaders declared here today.

The miners and railroad workers on a strike at the same time and each refusing to settle until the other secures satisfactory settlement—that is the chief proposal under consideration at Cincinnati at conference between John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers and executives of the railroad unions, according to authoritative information reaching here.

If such a program is followed and victory is achieved, nationalization of both the coal mines and the railroads probably will be demanded as a price of settlement.

If the miners back the railroad workers in the extent of refusing to settle their strike until the railroad men return to work on their own terms, it was admitted the leaders of both groups face jail on charges of conspiracy. There is a strong possibility, it was stated, that the leaders will go to jail to force a showdown.

Headquarters for the executives of the railroad unions will be established in Chicago June 24, to make all preparations for a strike, which is to occur on July 1.

"Labor," official organ of the American Federation of Labor, railroad unions and the Big Four brotherhoods, is full of strike talk. The policy of this paper is dictated by the railroad union chiefs. Previously, whenever there had been outside strike talk, the paper "soft pedaled" the idea of a walkout, following the policy of the union leaders. Today, it definitely stated that there will be a general railroad strike.

A general staff, composed of railroad executives, will direct the strike from the general headquarters in Chicago, according to present plans. Other quarters will be established at strategic points throughout the country.

If the threatened railroad strike should be effective as the unions plan it to be, the striking miners would benefit, it is pointed out, since it would mean virtual stoppage of coal production. On the other hand, if the miners held out until terms were made also with the striking railroad workers, operations of the railroads would become impossible through lack of coal, and industrial paralysis would result. When this situation developed, nationalization of mines and railroads would be demanded.

QUICK BONUS FAILS IN TEST VOTE

GARDINER MAN SEEMS A DIVORCE FROM WIFE.

Matter Came Up In Newburgh on Saturday.

On the application of Earle H. Houghtaling, counsel for the defendant, Justice Seeger in supreme court special term in Newburgh Saturday, granted an order for a bill of particulars in the suit of Daniel J. Toohy of Gardiner, Ulster county, against Margaret Toohy, for an absolute divorce.

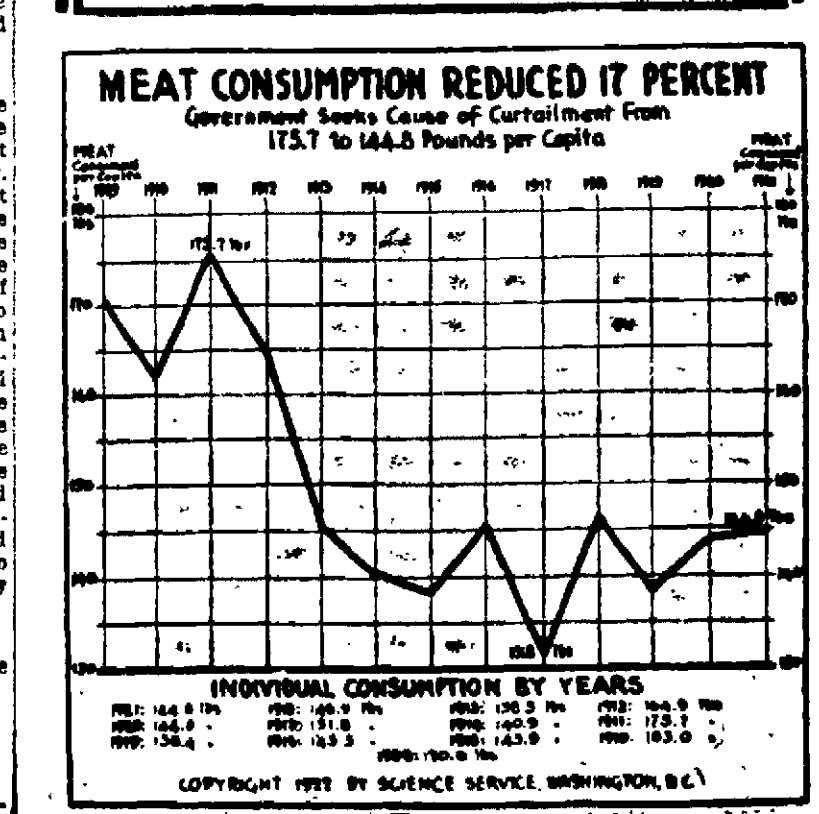

Toohy accuses his wife of infidelity with one Terry Hess in Gardiner on August 1, 1921, and February 5 and February 11, 1922, and of intimacy with him elsewhere at divers times. The order for a bill of particulars requires him to specify the time and places. DeWitt C. Ostrander of Clintondale is the husband's attorney.

The couple were married in New York, January 5, 1912, and are the parents of four children—Charles W., born February 27, 1914; Frances, born November 7, 1915; Margaret, born October 16, 1917, and John F., born November 26, 1919. These are with the father. Last year Toohy began a suit for separation, but a settlement was effected, the wife signing off her dower right in farm he owned in Gardiner. It is said he has since transferred the property to his sister.

CAPTAIN WELLS DEAD AT HOME

For Thirty-Seven Years He Had Commanded the Ferry Flying Between Kingston and Rhinecliff, Retiring From Active Service on May 1, 1907.

Captain Benjamin Wells died at 12:30 o'clock this afternoon at his home in Port Ewen. While he had not been in the best of health for several years past he was not taken seriously ill until a few days ago.

Captain Wells after thirty-seven years' service on the ferryboats Lark and Transport plying between this city and Rhinecliff retired from active service on May 1, 1907, and was succeeded by Captain Charles Winchell who died a few years ago.

In the years that Captain Wells saw active service he made thousands of trips and there is a remarkable record of no serious accidents against him. The traveling public always received the greatest courtesy at his hands and he was long a familiar figure in the river life in this section.

Captain Wells was born in Lloyd township on June 25, 1838, a son of James Wells. When 16 years old he moved to Port Ewen and entered the employ of Abram Ellsworth, who manufactured root beer. After working for Mr. Ellsworth for two years he entered the employ of the Pennsylvania Coal Company and worked for that concern four years on the dock. For the eight years following he had charge of barges and acted as overseer for the company.

On December 1, 1870, he took charge of the steamer Lark, which was used as a ferry, then in charge of Captain Benjamin F. Schulz. He continued in that capacity until 1880, when the ferryboat Transport was bought, and he took charge of that boat.

During the many years that Captain Wells played an active part in the life of the Hudson river he made numerous friends by his many acts of courtesy and kindness and when he retired from active service he was missed by the thousands of passengers who during the season traveled back and forth across the river on the ferry.

Captain Wells is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Elsie K. Hutchings. The funeral arrangements will be announced later.

NEW SPORT SHOES

Season at Hand for Footwear in Variety of Leathers.

Many Styles Available for Street Wear, Formal Occasions and for Games.

In buying shoes, says a fashion writer, one must now look ahead to the season in which sport costumes, wool hose or silk and wool, or silk hosiery in all of the soft colors, will be worn with footwear of the sport order in a variety of leathers. A shoe is not in the sport class simply because there is a dominant interest in sportwear. Sport shoes are for street, golf and walking, but for dress and semi-dress the pretty straps in patent, satin, brocade and suede are correct. There are a number of new styles, including straps with jeweled buckles for evening wear, suedes and satins for evening wear, while buck with fringed tongues for street and sport wear in summer, and gold cloth mules for the boudoir.

It is well to get a proper definition of sport footwear. There is a difference between sport shoes and sports shoes. The first term is generally applied to a rather wide variety of footwear that is used quite generally for street wear in summer. These shoes are made of a variety of materials on rather broad toe lasts carrying flat, broad heels, and are frequently fitted with rubber soles.

The second term is used to designate footwear intended for use for some particular game or sport and used exclusively, or nearly so, for that sport, such as football, baseball, bowling, basketball and track, etc.

Right at this minute "the craze," so called is for smoked leathers and coffee shades of elk, horse and calf, and white and pearl buck. The smoked leathers are very popular for the new footwear.

White buck is one of the most popular of our sport leathers. It is used in footwear for a large variety of sport and outing wear.

It should be mentioned that the pearl grays still retain their popularity in calf and buck.

Black patent leathers are smart in flat heeled oxford styles.

Full Louis and baby Louis heels divide honors in dress styles.

Flat and one-inch heels are favored for sports wear.

SPORTS AND STREET COAT

This is something new in polo coats for either sports or street wear. The inverted plait is not stitched below the shoulders, which gives more than the usual comfort in a polo coat.

SCARFS WITH LONG FRINGE

Checks Feature of Lighter Garments for Spring Wear; Also of Dark-Toned Stockings.

When the spring days are too warm for a coat or a cape, there are the scarfs. The best looking are checked and finished with long wool fringe. Often the scarf is made with sweater and tam to match. The accessories want to have their say in checks, too. There are gilets, that start out so subdued in creamy white batiste or organdy, but break away from their demureness, finishing themselves with the brightest of checked gingham or crepe collars. There are dark-toned silk and wool stockings, brightened with striking checked stripes.

You can buy handkerchiefs with gay checked borders and others even gay, where the centers are checked and the border white. There are parasols of checked gingham, lovely purses and vanities of checked silk and handkerchief bags straight from Paris made of checked and plain ribbons. Besides, there are hosiery in about every color that one can think of, that look like a checker-board cut up in strips.

Admonitory.
Someone says: "In private, watch your thoughts; in the family, watch your tongue." That is mighty good advice, and we are not hurting it any when we add, "and in a crowd, watch your watch."—Boston Transcript.

MUMMIFIED BODIES IN CAVES

Scientists Expect to Find Much of Interest Through Discoveries in South Africa.

Recently discovered mummy caves in the Koster district, west of Pretoria, South Africa, are situated in a wild country 25 miles from railways, and the entrance to them lies at the bottom of a forbidding hole in the ground 60 feet deep, for the descent of which a rope tied to a tree trunk is necessary.

Several hours spent in the caves failed to give any estimate of their size as passages extend for long distances, possibly for miles. The work of exploration was not without danger on account of the pitch darkness, the insecure rocks, and the risk of falling into crevices.

The explorers saw in a fissure high up in a rock on the side of the cave the mummified body of a huge buck, on top of which, also wedged in the rocks, was the body of a large tiger with its jaws fiercely extended. Two members of the party attempted to get the horns of the buck, but a fall of rock compelled them to abandon the effort. Under the bats' dung which covered the floor of the cave were found the mummified remains of a monkey measuring six feet from head to toe, in an excellent state of preservation. On the floors were a large number of bones and chipped flints, while the bats' dung looked as though it had been accumulated for centuries.

His Recovery Complete.

The figure tells of an English soldier named Mitchell who was a just master at the art of tasting whisky. In the war he was gassed and lost his sense of smell and the use of speech. Deprived of his calling, he became a beggar. Now, in a certain hotel in London Mitchell received a formidable blow under his nose and another on his jaw. Ten seconds later he was knocked out. One of his attendants rushed some spirits to him. Then Mitchell miraculously recovered and declared, even before waiting his lips, "This stuff is at least fifteen years old."

PLEASED THE "MONEY BAGS"

European Capitalists Listened With Pleasure to Accounts of Rockefeller's Stupendous Wealth.

During my stay in London I accepted an invitation to have luncheon with Lord Rothschild at his office, John Hays Hammond writes in Scribner's. It had been my custom, extending over a period of many years, to drop in informally and have luncheon with the Rothschilds once or twice during each of my frequent visits to London. On these occasions always the most interesting topic of conversation was my estimate of the wealth of Rockefeller and other rich Americans. Lord Rothschild invariably introduced the subject and forewarned, I was ready to give him the desired thrill. He would usually start with some "piker" capitalist, whose wealth did not amount to more than the paltry sum of $100,000,000, and then worked up by queries until he reached the American Crosses, John D. Rockefeller. It would be an unpatriotic American who would belittle the wealth of a compatriot at a time like this, and after having modestly admitted, in reply to Lord Rothschild's question, that Rockefeller was certainly worth $500,000,000, assuming an air of ultra-conservatism, I would allow him to extort what was to him a delectable fact that Rockefeller was worth at least $750,000,000; and when the money bags around the table stared at me with an expression of pleased surprise, but not of doubt, I would in subdued tone convey to them the fact that in informed financial circles of America the Rockefeller's wealth was estimated at over $1,000,000,000! The internationalism of the Rothschild family, and the utter lack of envy, is evidenced in the unmistakable pleasure which characterized the reception of this titbit of high finance.

A LINGERING HABIT.

American "spreadeagles" and national or local self-glorification are much less noticeable now than when Dickens satirized them. We have become big enough not to feel called on to boast of it in extravagant terms. But there are still exceptions. No amused foreigner's parodies in the past ever outdid the ecstasies of a writer in the Standard of New Rochelle, Westchester county, N. Y. New Rochelle is more than "the garden spot of the world," which most American towns once claimed to be; it is the very torchlight of civilization and its men and women are of such perfection that they are "incredible." After paying his respects to troubled and degenerate Europe, the Standard's writer acclaims his home county with the most extraordinary of trumpets.

"Contemplating it," he writes, "we step into another world altogether. Here is primal nature, glorified by the art of man into a gorgeous glory that fairly takes the breath of a stranger." And further: "Best of all, here is a government which legislates for the future and disdains shackles of past precedents. It now seeks to put in operation a court for children, where no taint of hardened criminals shall ever impregnate its air, where kindness and truth shall abound, and justice shall be tempered with mercy. Man and woman in Westchester county are incredible. Their achievements are nowhere else paralleled in the world today. They stride forward to new conquests, in physical beauty and improved methods of government, whose incredible benefits shall aid those to follow in the Garden of Eden of an otherwise distraught planet."

USURPATION OF RIGHTS.

Criticized for his opposition to what he describes as the "so-called Anti-Lynching bill," Senator Borah writes a letter to the Boston Transcript wherein he gives expression to logical and sound views, showing both the fallacy of the measure and its lack of Constitutional warrant. He argues that the proposed Federal law will neither prevent nor punish the crime of lynching because it is aimed only at officers of the law who fail to protect the intended victim or neglect to bring the perpetrators to justice. But what chiefly concerns and interests Senator Borah is the underhand usurpation of State rights by the Federal power. He asserts, with good reason, that if the Federal government can appropriate the police powers of the States in this instance, on the ground of providing greater efficiency, it can do so in any or all cases.

He pointedly remarks that the real issue in this, as in the case of child labor, is whether there should be a redistribution of power, Federal and State, transferring to the former the police power of the state in whole or in part. He shows that there is a constant pressure on members of Congress to disregard their oaths to support the Constitution and on the Supreme Court to provide virtually a new Constitution. He asserts that for twenty years Congressmen have been compromising with their oaths under such pressure and in many cases have been guilty of "Constitutional immorality." In its recent ruling on the child labor measure the Supreme Court pointed out that these attempts to circumvent the Constitution derive power from the fact that the end sought is worthy. That decision is an effort to check the trend of which Senator Borah complains. Worthy ends must be achieved constitutionally, or the whole fabric of our dual system of government will be threatened with collapse.

The assertion that there is now a lack of genuine party issues receives something like confirmation in the campaign of Howard Davies of Maine, who seeks to succeed Frederick Hale in the United States Senate on the ground that he is married and Senator Hale is single. The bachelor senator is in Washington attending to business while his opponent is stumping the state with "Get Married" as his slogan.

The American Federation of Labor not only makes bold to decide to carry on a campaign in New York for the "legalizing of light wives and beers as beverages" but makes the announcement that this will be done "in the interests of health, temperance, morality and law enforcement." Evidently the workingman is tired of questionable fluids at ruinous "bootleg" prices and wants his glass of real beer after his day's work at a reasonable figure.

Burroughs Nature Club Notes

What do you want to know about Nature Subjects? Send any questions of general interest to the Nature Notes Department of this paper, enclosing a self-addressed and stamped envelope for reply.

Can You Answer These Questions?

1. Please name all the kinds of birds known as game birds?
2. Do any of the common ants have wings?
3. When do woodchucks first come out in spring? What do they eat then?

Answers In Tomorrow's Nature Notes.

Answers To Previous Questions.

1. Please describe the starling's feathers—do all starlings have light marks or tips on the dark coat? The back feathers have light buffy tips that show distinctly against the black, metallic-tinted summer plumage. In winter the dark plumage is somewhat veiled by buffy tones. Sexes are similar, but the female is a trifle duller. The long pointed ivory colored bill is a good identification mark.

2. Have claims a brain? The claim has a nerve system that serves it for a brain, but no special organ resembling the brain of mammals or birds. The technical description of the ganglia that comprise this nerve system is not helpful to the general reader. But it simply means the claim has a sort of nerve ring surrounding its gut, with branches that control the foot, and hence locomotion. This nerve system is simple, and not capable of the behavior of the brain of higher animals.

3. Can moose be kept in parks? Not very successfully, owing to difficulties in feeding them. In nature moose feed mainly on tips of trees, which they reach by standing astride the young saplings until they are bent down where the long upper lip can get at the "browse." Also eat some grass and moss, kneeling to get it. But in captivity grass makes them sick; and hay and grain, with some green foliage, does not seem to nourish. Attacks of digestive troubles are frequent, and usually end fatally.

SENATE HOUSE FENCE ASSURED

Contract Already Let—Judge Clearwater Has Valuable Old Paintings Framed Under Glass.

Judge Clearwater, president of the Senate House Association, has had the portraits of the Vanderlyn family painted by John Vanderlyn the artist, and presented to that association by Miss Kate Vanderlyn, his niece, framed under glass. Also, he has had the portrait of Judge John Tremper, county judge of Ulster county from 1810 to 1815, painted by Vanderlyn on a panel of sycamore wood, together with the celebrated portraits of Judge Robert Macbraire and his wife, who was the daughter of William Maxwell, the first president of the Bank of New York, similarly framed.

The portrait of Judge Tremper was painted with the intention of its being presented to the Regents of the University of the State of New York. It became the property of the Judge's family, and thus came into Judge Clearwater's possession.

The portraits of Judge Macbraire and his wife attracted national attention during the War of the Revolution. They were upon the walls of Maxwell's house in Wall street, New York City, upon whose bank Sir William Howe, the commander of the British forces, made a demand for twenty thousand pounds, for the maintenance and pay of his troops, a demand Maxwell refused, whereupon Howe commandeered his house. Howe's body guard, not having been paid, learning of Maxwell's refusal to furnish the money, stabbed both portraits with their bayonets. Although Howe expressed regret at the outrage, he failed to have the portraits repaired, and they now hang in the north room of the Senate House with the bayonet holes as a reminder of Maxwell's patriotic refusal.

For the last five years Judge Clearwater has endeavored to induce the Department of Public Buildings to replace the cheap, broken down, dilapidated looking fence surrounding the Senate House property, with one becoming the dignity and associations of the old building. The high cost of iron work, the lack of funds has been successful, and this week received a letter from the Hon. Otto Jantz, the superintendent of public buildings, informing him that a contract had been made for an iron fence four feet high from the ground, with three-quarter inch pickets, and posts set in concrete, to surround the whole property.

Since Mr. Jantz became superintendent of public buildings, he has taken a warm interest in the Senate House and its collections, frequently visiting Kingston, and expressing his approval at the manner in which the trustees of the association and Miss Westbrook, the custodian, looked after the property.

Unfortunately the trustees are destitute of funds. The state makes no appropriation for their use, and whatever is done in the way of securing collections and properly providing for them, must be paid for by the trustees individually.

SAMSONVILLE.

Samsonville, June 19.—Merrill Chambers and wife of Poughkeepsie called on some of their former neighbors here last Friday.

Mrs. Irvin Barringer had a surprise on Sunday when her two sisters, Dora and Florence, came to visit her. Dora lives in Springfield, Mass., and had not seen her sister in about four years.

Miss Mildred Decker's school picnic was a grand success and was greatly enjoyed by her pupils and some of the parents and also by some invited friends, among them being the Rev. S. S. Robbins and wife of Olive Bridge. Mrs. Harlowe McLean of Brodhead and Mrs. Bevier and Daisy and Marie Myers. Refreshments of sandwiches, pickles, cake, lemonade, and ice cream were served to nearly 50 people. Mr. Carlson with his auto truck accommodating 20 and F. Davis and Merrill Kelder with their Fords, the school was taken to the Ashokan reservoir and treated to candy. They would be pleased to have Miss Decker return for another term.

Mrs. Harlowe McLean spent a few days last week with her mother, Mrs. Moore.

There is some talk of a Fourth of July celebration. It is expected that people will keep talking and planning for it and have a good time at old Samsonville once again.

"Knocker" in the 26th Regiment.

Among almost a thousand men, it would be strange if there could not be found a few disgruntled ones. The Twenty-sixth Infantry, which spent Sunday and Monday in Newburgh, developed at least one "knocker" who made it his business, on reaching Kingston, to call in a newspaper office to slam Newburgh because, as he said, the regiment had to camp in a city dump. He would have had the camp located in the Recreation Park. The tract occupied by the soldiers at Mill and South William streets was selected by the regiment's advance officers. In former years there was some dumping in the vicinity, but the tract itself is comparatively level and clean ground. Newburgh treated the "boys" hospitably and it is not believed they left here with other than kindly feelings toward the city. —Newburgh News.

A SAFE INVESTMENT AT GOOD INTEREST

The fact that gas and electric bonds have the approval of the State Public Service Commission is especially valuable to the investor in these days when so many speculative securities are being offered.

But, in addition to SAFETY, the First Mortgage Gold Bonds which we are offering, pay a GOOD RATE OF INTEREST—6%. Moreover, they may be converted on any interest date to Preferred Stock paying 7%.

This bond issue, which is to finance a needed supply of economic power for the Central Hudson Valley, is, in reality, a community enterprise.

The terms of purchase are such that even those with comparatively small accumulations are enabled to participate in the offering to advantage.

3,000 ENJOY RAINY PICNIC

Weather Didn't Suppress Speakers
Nor Epidormoler Vandervillians—
League Plant Utilized.

While the inclement weather prevented a large number of dairymen from attending the Tri-County Dairymen's League Picnic at Wallkill on June 17th, there were between 2,500 and 3,000 in attendance.

The Walden Citizens' Band furnished music for the occasion. There was also an orchestra which furnished music in one of the rooms in the plant and dancing was enjoyed by the farmers and their friends from 2 p. m. until 11:30 p. m.

John Y. Gerow, first president of the Dairymen's League, from Washingtonville, gave a very fine address on dairy conditions and the expectations of the dairymen in the future. This was followed by a very eloquent talk by Rush Lewis of the league office in Utica. Mr. Lewis went into the causes and conditions of the dairy industry. The league officials were unable to come and make any addresses as there was a convention in Utica on June 15th and the directors and executive committee were in session on the day of the picnic and they sent their regrets. They stated that next year nothing would prevent their attending.

Next on the program came the vaudeville acts by the "Epidormoler" Vaudeville Company, of which H. M. Epes is manager. This troupe is composed of Mrs. Morse, Mrs. Sahler, Mr. Doremus and Mr. Epes, all from the Rondout Valley. They gave a number of vaudeville sketches and a piano solo was rendered by Mrs. Morse, which delighted the audience.

The radioconcert was unable to be given on account of the static electricity in the air caused by a thunder shower at the time the concert was to have taken place.

The Ladies' Co-operative Club furnished everyone with sufficient amount of food at very reasonable prices to those who did not bring their lunch. The committee in charge secured 150 gallons of Dairymen's League ice cream, which was shipped in from Auburn, together with Dairymen's League butter, milk and cheese. All of these commodities were practically sold out.

The large Dairymen's League plant at Wallkill was inspected by all present. It is one of the best equipped plants in this section of the state for handling fluid milk, having a capacity of over 1,000 cans per day. The grounds around the building were in exceptionally fine shape. The State Troopers rendered valiant service and there was no discontent with the way the picnic was handled. Arrangements had been made for sports and games for the children but as the weather prevented this, the milk plant was thrown open and everyone was under cover during the rain.

A very fine time was enjoyed by all and it was voted that this was one of the best picnics that have been held. There was some talk of holding the picnic in Orange county next year.

Is Money Ever "Spent" for Advertising?

A young and energetic executive took hold of a fine old retail business in New York.

"What this business needs," he told himself, "is a place in the mind of the public."

And deliberately he set out to sacrifice the greater volume of his profits and invest the sacrifice into the building of goodwill.

He did. And to this old business, advertising was the breath of life.

For six months had not passed before the business had grown so that the advertising cost was a smaller percentage than ever it had been, and, because of a larger volume, the shop effected economies and gave far superior service.

That was five years ago. Today a certain percentage is spent, or supposed to be spent, for advertising. But as fast as the appropriation is spent, the more the business increases; and the more that the business increases, the smaller the percentage becomes.

Is money ever "spent" for advertising?

Mrs. Thelma Helms Foster, of New York, has brought suit for $50,000 against Mrs. Nana McDoo Foster, alleging that Mrs. Foster alienated the affections of her husband, Angelo Scarpa Foster, whom she is suing for a separation. Mrs. Nana McDoo Foster, sister to former Secretary of the Treasury William G. McAdoo, is the foster mother of Angelo Foster, whom she adopted years ago in Knoxville, Tenn. After answer to the suit, is an allegation that after her daughter-in-law's grandfather and her uncle, Charles M. Whitney, Jr., induced her to sell $75,000 worth of bonds and invest it in their real estate firm, they brought about the secret marriage to deprive her of her money. Foster is sticking to his foster mother. The younger Mrs. Foster was denied temporary alimony and counsel fees.

Daddy's Evening Fairy Tale

BY MARY GRAHAM BONNER

HAPPY MISS SPRING

"Miss Springtime was as happy as happy could be," said Daddy. "Ah, I feel so pleasantly," she said. "The dear Breeze Brothers are whispering such sweet secrets to me. They are telling me they are so glad to see me. That makes my heart rejoice. I like to be wanted and to be made so welcome."

"You know I am always happy. I do not worry and weep and feel sad. I am bright over each little flower that is going to bloom next. I am not sad over the one that has dropped its petals and which is through blooming."

"But I am happy with the next one that is to come out. And that is the way with all of our family. It is the way dear Mother Nature has taught us to be. That is why we make room so willingly for each other."

"Now I shall make way for Lady Summer and Lady Summer will make way for Prince Autumn and Prince Autumn will make way for Old Man Winter."

"We will not be sorry we have to go, for we will know that so much is going to follow and that we will be here again when it comes time for our season."

"Ah, yes, Mother Nature has taught us not to be sad. She has such a wonderful disposition that we are always happy too."

"She tells her to be happy with each new thing that happens, each new little bud that opens up its sweet face to greet the world."

"Isn't it wonderful not to feel sad over what has happened but to be happy over what is going to happen next? Every one cannot be like that."

"We are Mother Nature's children and so have special permissions granted to us."

"Ah, I love my time of the year. The birds sing as though they would burst their little throats."

"They don't burst their little throats, of course, but they do sing as though they would."

"What sweet little throats they have, too. Ah, I hear them sing when their songs are loveliest, when they are making love to the dear little birds who will later be their mates."

"I watch the flowers come out. I have many treats. I saw a dear little person known as Dolly picking flowers from one of my favorite gardens the other day."

"She picked all the pretty spring flowers which come along with me. There were jonquils and there were fragrant, lovely single hyacinths of such a lovely shade of purple. How dearly I love those hyacinths!"

"And she picked some Johnny Jump-Ups with their dear, cunning little faces."

"How faithful they are, coming up every year and lasting all through the year. They are just as loyal and true as ever flowers were."

"And then she got some trailing arbutus flowers from the woods with their lovely scent and their pink and white faces peeping so prettily from out the green leaves which they call their windows."

"She sent all these off in a box to a friend of hers in the city, for she said that she wanted the city friend to have a little glimpse and a little message from the woods and from the garden in the spring."

"Wasn't that a sweet thought?"

"Ah, I am happy Miss Spring; and often I'm called Miss Springtime. And I am never sad, any more than any of Mother Nature's children are sad, for we are always bright with the next flower which is ready to bloom."

"This is the truth, but do you know who said so too, and who, too, discovered the truth?"

"It was that dear Dolly person. She knows the truth about Mother Nature and her children. And now I must sing a little song:"

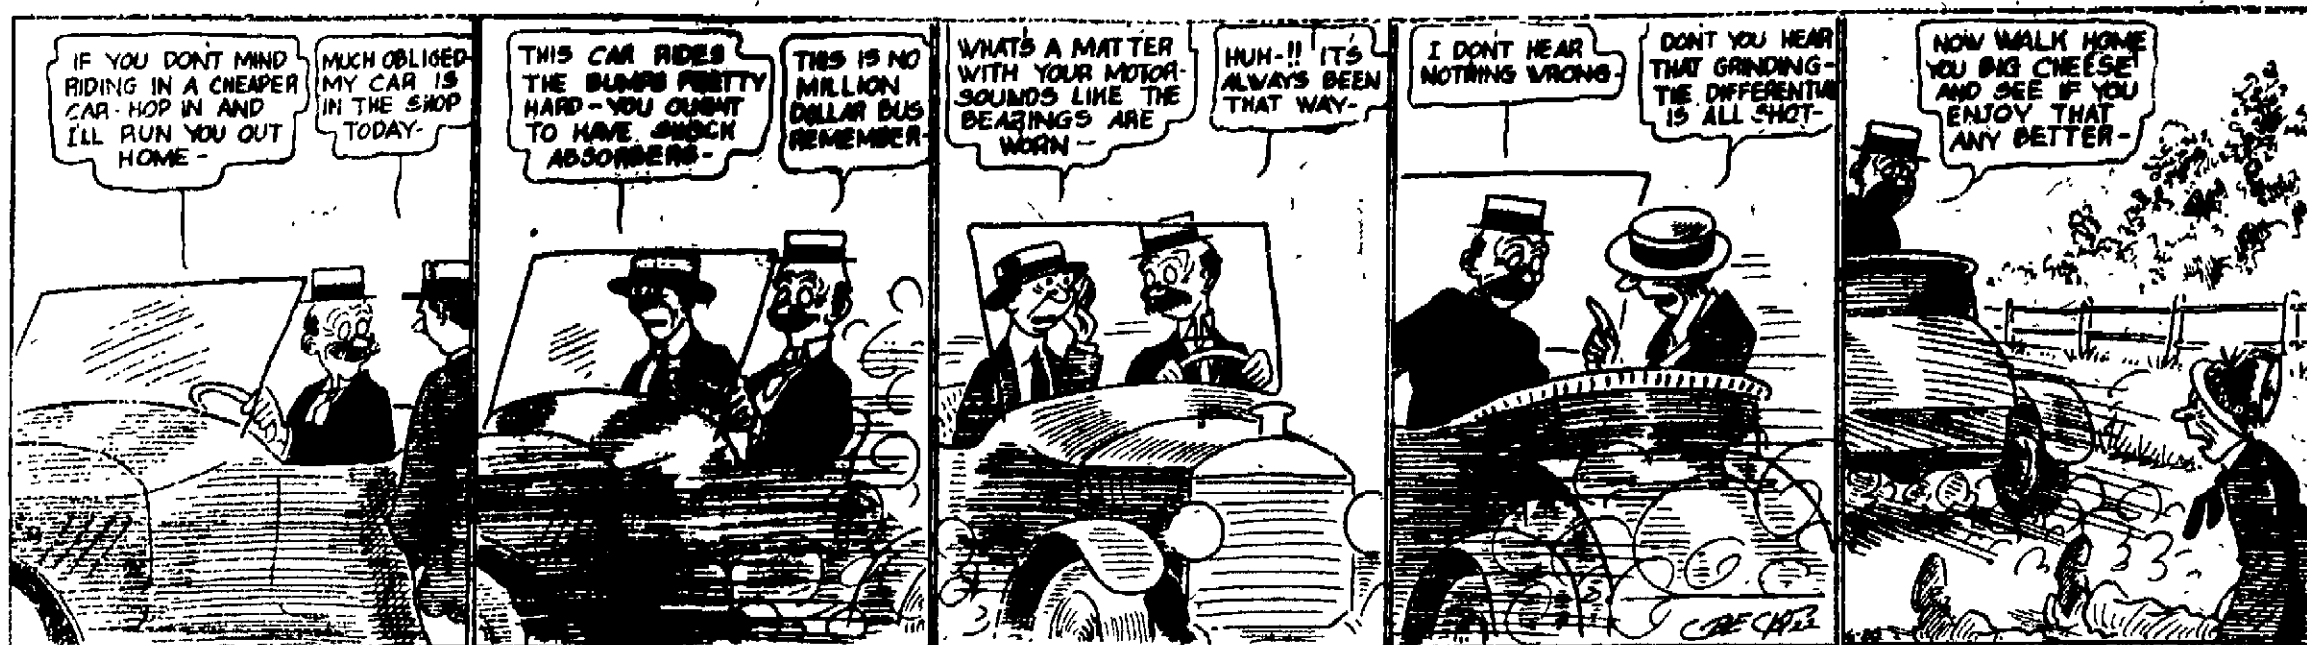

"I'm Miss Spring, I'm Miss Spring. And blossoms I bring. And the birds are all singing. For they're glad that it's Spring!"

"And then the birds all joined in the chorus and the blossoms danced with the Breeze Brothers and Miss Springtime said she liked her time of the year best, though she knew that Lady Summer and Prince Autumn and Old Man Winter didn't agree with her!"

GAS BUGGIES—The most irritating motorist in the world

It may be proved with much certainty that God intends no man to live in this world without working, but it seems to me no less evident that He intends every man to be happy in his work. It is written, "in the sweat of thy brow," but it was never written, "in the breaking of thy heart," thou shalt eat bread.—John Ruskin.

HELPFUL SUGGESTIONS

To the small town or country housewife who has not easy access to a market there is a great satisfaction in the knowledge that no matter who comes she is prepared for an emergency. This first aid in an emergency is a well-stocked shelf kept filled with foods which may be used in a hurry call when husband brings home unexpected company.

With canned soups or home canned soups or broths one may make a good dish for the beginning of a meal, then with a jar of salad dressing some sort of a salad is usually easy to prepare. If one has time a berry pie makes a fine dessert; or a shottake, using canned fruit, is always a favorite. The foods used will depend, of course, upon the taste of the family, and if one is to be prepared the canned food, whatever it is, should be replaced at the first opportunity.

A few cans of fish, such as salmon and tuna, sardines and clams, if liked, some jars of sliced dried beef, and bacon, peanut butter, cans of corn and tomatoes, with a bottle of good salad dressing, which may be stretched by the addition of cream, a box or jar of cheese, are a few of the foods which will be most commonly used, not forgetting several cans of good soup. A most delicious tomato sauce may be made in a hurry from a can of tomato soup, using it with cold meat or hamburger steak, if at hand.

When taking dishes to a church supper or ball, mark them with small bits of adhesive tape with the name written in ink. This will not wash off at all easily, and one may identify one's property with little difficulty.

When baking a crust for a filled pie, bake it on the bottom of the pan, pricking it lightly with a fork; this keeps the crust from blistering.

To make bias binding take the binder from the sewing machine and press the material as it is drawn through the binder.

Find Omens in Chicken Bones.

Chickens bones are the "Where-Is-It?" book of the Red Karen tribe in Burma. The Karen, according to the National Geographic Magazine, consult them to know where he should build his village or his house; whether he should start on a journey, and if so, in what direction, on what day and at what hour; whether he should marry a certain girl, and if the omens approve, on what day he should do it; where he should make his hill-clearing, when he should prepare, sow and reap it; in fact, he does nothing without authority from fowls' bones. Like all their neighbors, the Red Karen are spirit-worshippers, and the names of their divinities seem to be much the same for all. Some of the spirits are bad, some indifferent and a few amiable. The malignant ones are fearfully worshipped with sacrifices, the others only at moments of expansiveness, after surplus liquor has been consumed.

Violent Criticism Resented.

A man takes contradiction and advice much more easily than people think, only he will not bear it when violently given, even though it be well founded. Hearts are fowers; they remain open to the soft-falling dew, but shut up in the violent downpour of rain.—Richter.

KILLS PESKY BED BUGS P. D. Q.

Just think, a 35c box of P. D. Q. (Pesty Devil Queller) makes a quart, enough to kill a million Bed Bugs, Roaches, Fleas or Cooties, and stops future generations by killing their eggs, and does not injure the clothing. Liquid first to the bed bugs is what P. D. Q. is like; Bed Bugs stand as good a chance as a snowball in a justly famed heat roast. Patent spot free in every package of P. D. Q. to enable you to kill them and their next eggs in the cracks.

Look for the devil's hand on every box. Special Hospital size, 12.5c, makes two gallons; contains three spoons. P. D. Q. can also be purchased in sealed bottles, double strength liquid form.

ICE HOUSE BURNS AT RHINECLIFF

Fire, probably of incendiary origin, destroyed the twenty thousand ton ice house of the Knickerbocker Ice Company on the Hudson river at Rhinecliff shortly after 11 o'clock Monday evening. About 12:45 o'clock some one in Ponckhockie grew wildly excited when the flames from the burning ice house lit up the sky and turned in an alarm of fire from Box 17, Strand and Abrayn street, to which the fire department responded promptly and as promptly returned to the fire station as nothing could be done by the local firemen to help extinguish the flames. The big ice house was not filled the past winter and no ice had been carried over from the previous season. It was of frame construction and burned rapidly and the reflection of the flames in the sky could be seen for many miles both up and down the river.

FLATBUSH.

Flatbush, June 19.—The consistory of the church will hold its usual pre-communion session, in the church, Wednesday evening, June 21st, at 8:15 o'clock, daylight time. At this session candidates for membership may present themselves. The consistory will also act upon the matter of the release of their pastor, the Rev. John B. Steketee, who has accepted the office of Classical Missionary for the Classis of Ulster Communion service, Sunday, June 25th. The Rev. J. B. Steketee is expected home from his western trip Tuesday.

More Thought Riles Newburgh.

Woodstock persons, mainly summer residents, who in defiance of the orders of the Kingston water board have gone bathing in the Sawkill river, source of the city's water supply, are likely to be pulled up sharply by the law. If anything like this were attempted in Washington Lake, there would be action and plenty of it. The Woodstock incident shows the extreme to which "personal liberty" idea is carried by a class of persons so inconsiderate of others that they deserve little consideration.—Newburgh News

Easy to Say.

Hard work is the best cure for the blues. At least, that is what you always tell the other fellow.

THE OFFICE CAT

Not a Popular Idea.

An old fogey, according to the "live wire," is any man who thinks it is useless to waste time trying to get something for nothing.

The lady who declares she would not marry the best man living usually changes her mind and marries one of the worst men living.

"Saved His Way Out of Jail with a Freshly Laundered Collar" is a headline we've been confidently expecting.

The Fletcher And The Well.

"Did you participate in many engagements while in France?" asked the interested old lady.

"Only five," replied the ex-A. E. F. with becoming modesty.

"And you came through them all unhurt?"

"Not exactly," he returned sadly.

"I married the fifth."

When a statesman refers to the people it is hard to tell whether he says "the masses" or "them asses."

When you speak four inches away from the telephone transmitter it lengthens the line 218 miles. Two inches away lengthens the line 128 miles. To get best results "talk up" to your telephone.

So says a bulletin dealing with Public Utilities. Our suggestion is that you be sure who is on the other end of the line before you "talk up."

Almost any wife thinks she would be able to live on her husband's income if it were doubled.

And when we read about famous men who work twelve hours a day we crave obscurity.

The emptier the head the easier it is to fill it with hot air.

On The Other Hand.

Elmer Glyn says the boys obey the flappers like dogs. Usually, however, the flappers eat out of the boys' hands.

"What makes our girls run around so?" worries a leading club woman.

Maybe hunting her mother.

Teacher—Don't you know that when you take something away from something, less will remain?
Infant Einstein—How about the two ends of a stick? Cut 'em both off and it still has two ends left.

The Twenty-sixth Infantry, composed of 540 men and 20 officers, passed through our village Tuesday morning, June 13, enroute from Camp Dix to Plattsburg, and pitched their tents for over night on the L. Mackey farm. The soldiers arrived here in time to participate in the St. Anthony celebration. The ball game between the soldiers' team and the Milton team was one of the best of the season resulting in a score of 6 to 1 in a seven inning game in favor of the soldiers' team. The regimental band furnished music at the ball game and Orton's band of Newburgh the music for the morning and evening's entertainment at St. James's Park. Our Italian residents were out in full force. Dancing was enjoyed by those present during the evening. The fireworks display was one long to be remembered. The park was nearly packed with autos. The celebration of St. Anthony's Day has never been observed here before and was greatly enjoyed by all who attended.

Quite a large number of shipments of cherries are being made from this section and are bringing good prices.

C. OF C. DRIVE OPENS MONDAY

The Chamber of Commerce membership campaign will not be opened until next Monday, June 26, so as not to interfere with the drive which began today to raise Kingston's share of $150,000 of the $750,000 hotel to be built on the General George Sharpe property at Albany and Hudson avenues, opposite Academy street.

The membership committee will meet Monday night at the Chamber of Commerce rooms on Broadway. Chairman Samuel M. Watts, will preside, and discussed plans for the two weeks' membership campaign, which will begin next Monday.

Chairman Watts said that from all indications the drive for the new $750,000 hotel on the Sharpe property is going over big, and he had no doubt that the interest aroused generally throughout the city by this big accomplishment of the Chamber of Commerce would result in increased interest and bigger membership than ever before.

Cards for the team workers were distributed to the captains of each ward, who remain in charge of their wards for a year, and Secretary Louis E. Coe spoke briefly with the slogan, "Go Get Them."

YOUNG HEBREWS ENJOY GREENKILL PARK OUTING

The terrific storms, it seems could not dampen the spirits of those assembled at Greenkill Park Sunday. With Mrs. Bernstein taking personal care of the arrangements, a pleasant day was assured for the members of the Loyal Friends Aid, The Young Men's Hebrew Association and the Young Women's Hebrew Association.

When the lightning flashed and the thunder rolled without, within the spacious sitting room of the hotel could be heard strains of joyous music either from Mrs. Mann, Mrs. Feder or from the group as a whole. At the sound of the delighted toasts the dinner bell, all of the assembled guests marched into the dining room. Following the sumptuous dinner, Charles Katz, toastmaster of the occasion called upon Mrs. Bernstein, Dr. Schoen and Miss Weisman. Each in a fine way expressed themselves ably and fittingly as to the cause of the occasion. The last speaker at the feast was David N. Pearlman, executive director of the Kingston Hebrew School Centre. The speaker outlined the future work of the Young Men's and Young Women's Hebrew Associations and hoped that the Jewish business men of Kingston would not fail him when in the near future the community center will be rebuilt and enlarged.

With the singing of the national anthems the guests adjourned to the Casino at Greenkill Park where they "tripped the light fantastic" for the rest of the evening.

LISTENERS WOULD TAKE RISK

Danger of Falling From Grace Negligible on the Part of Practitioner on Trampoline.

Mr. Elisha Johnson's mind was troubled on a certain point of conscience and he determined to seek his pastor's advice.

"Do you think it would be wrong for a Methodist to play in a brass band?" he asked, his open and ingenuous countenance filled with eagerness and doubt.

"Well," said the parson, slowly, "it's for yourself you're asking, I suppose, Elisha?"

Mr. Johnson admitted that the case was his own.

"And what instrument had you fixed in your mind?" asked the minister.

"Well," said Elisha, with a gradually clearing face, "I kind of thought I'd tackle the trombone, if you said it was all right, and I wouldn't be falling from grace to do it."

"Elisha," said the minister, "if you can find any one who is willing to pass through the fiery ordeal of hearing you practice, I think you may risk the danger of falling from grace with a good courage."—Milwaukee Sentinel.

Always in Readiness.

For several years first-aid packages have been carried on Pullman cars, but hitherto always in lockers, where, although secure, they were out of sight, says Popular Mechanics Magazine. As a consequence, often when they were most needed, the locker was found to be empty. In order to make such a condition impossible in the future, these first-aid packages are now being placed in a steel box, fastened to match the car, that accommodates two packages, and that is attached to the wall in the passageway of the car, high enough to be out of the way of passengers, but within easy reach.

Too New to Count.

I accompanied a doctor on one of his country trips recently. A little girl came out of the house where we stopped and struck up a conversation. I asked her name and she told me, and then began enumerating the rest of the family. She named nine in all, but just as she had finished an older sister came out of the house carrying a tiny baby.

"Well," I exclaimed, "you didn't tell me there was a baby, too."

"Oh, so, sir," she answered, "We haven't started counting him yet."—Chicago Tribune.

Not Particular.

A good naval man is told by "Whit-lane" in his cheerful book, "With the R. N. R." The officers of a patrol yacht were entertaining guests and Mrs. Marshall by her husband was so charming as it was remarkable. Holding out his hand, "Delighted," cried the young subaltern, "delighted to meet any wife of yours."—York (England) Post.

HUMAN FACTORS IN FLYING

Things That May Appear Small in Themselves Have Been Found to Be of Importance.

Few people realize that a small part of the inner ear has much to do with seasickness, and that this same portion of the ear affects the ability of a man to handle an airplane or airship.

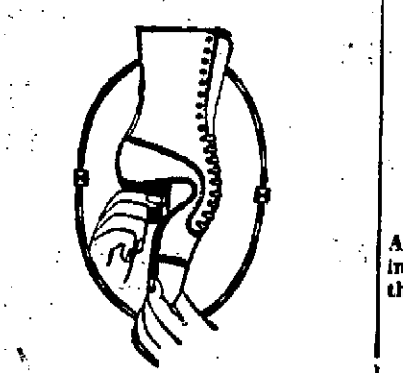

Since the close of the war the national research council has had several projects centering on the studying of human factors in flying, involving "behavioristic" experiments on man and animals, anatomical, physiological and psychological studies of the functions of the ear and associated eye movements; the writing of a history and the collection of a complete bibliography on the subject. Last year the workers in this field came together and organized themselves into a committee on vestibular research for the purpose of encouraging and coordinating work in this field. This committee has formulated a project on "The Experimental Study of Habituation to Rotation," which has been approved by the National Research Council. This project forms a natural nucleus around which may be gathered data from field experience, clinical records of flyers, etc.

The project will be administered by an executive committee, at the present time composed of Dr. J. Gordon Wilson, chairman; Dr. Raymond Dodge and Dr. F. H. Pike, in co-operation with the chairman of the division of biology and agriculture, medical sciences and anthropology and psychology in the National Research Council.

The air service is giving its active co-operation to the investigators through a special committee.—Aviation.

Dull Arabian Towns.

In Libya, smoking, drinking and dancing are forbidden by the Senussi law. The great difference between the Senussi towns and any other desert city is, therefore, the entire absence in the former of the cafes which usually form the center of life and amusement. The whole life of an Arab town goes on within the high, impenetrable walls.

Tired of Being Tired?

If weariness overtakes you every day, it may be caused by shoes that bind the feet, that check the circulation, or that cause strain and nervous derangement by encouraging poor carriage. Foot ills and, indirectly, many serious ailments may result from wearing shoes that bind the muscles, press on the nerves and weaken the arch.

INCREASED COMFORT
To correct foot troubles, and to increase your comfort and vitality, change to the Cantilever Shoe. It is a trim, good-looking shoe, patterned on the graceful lines of the foot, made of the finest leathers. Instead of a stiff sole, the Cantilever Shoe has a shank flexible like the foot arch itself. The shoe bends with every step. The muscles grow healthy from exercise. The result is a normal foot, which does not tire from long standing or walking.

AN EASY POSTURE.
The Cantilever last conforms to the foot. The toes are not twisted, but point straight ahead. The foot lies in its natural position, as it would in a moccasin. This, with the correct sort of the smart, moderate heel, encouraging an easy, untiring posture.

ESCAPED CONVICT IS RECAPTURED

Murderer Greer Had Hidden in Sing Sing Until Early Today When He Made Break and Got as Far as Harmon.

A Telegram to The Freeman. Ossining, N. Y., June 20.—While posses combed the countryside for him, Charles Greer, murderer, thought to have escaped from Sing Sing on Sunday, lay hiding in the prison until early today, and then made a dash for liberty. He was captured five hours later, at Harmon, three miles north of the prison.

Greer was captured by a railroad baggage man, whose attention was called to something moving in a clump of bushes near the Harmon station.

The railroad men questioned Greer who said he wanted to catch a freight train. They suspected his identity, pretended to sympathize with him and in the meantime notified Sing Sing authorities who sped to the spot in an automobile.

Captured, Greer admitted that the discarded prison garb deposited on the penitentiary roof, was a ruse to divert attention and give the impression he was at large.

After the Sunday night ball game, Greer told the officials, he made a hole through the top of his cell to the prison roof. There were too many guards in sight so he retired again to his cell, and thence into the prison, where he hid under the baseball grandstand until his chance came early today to make a getaway.

LIFE SENTENCE GIVEN STRAUB

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Jackson, Mich., June 20.—George Straub was sentenced to Marquette prison for life today, for murdering Miss Alice Mallet, local welfare worker. Straub, who was spirited here early today from Lansing, surrounded by a cordon of state troopers to assure his safety, pleaded guilty when arraigned before Judge Benjamin Williams.

Special details of state police and local officials guarded the confessed prisoner as he was led into the court room. Hundreds of people jammed the court room.

"Words cannot express my opinion of the monstrosity of this crime," said Judge Williams in passing sentence.

Miss Mallet was killed with an axe, her body mutilated and left in a yard in Jackson, nearly two weeks ago.

GRANT INTERCEDED FOR LEE

Writer in Detroit Newspaper Makes Public Fragment of History That Is Interesting Reading.

Immediately after the conclusion of the Civil war and the assassination of President Lincoln, Andrew Johnson, the new President, became very intent on the punishment of the South, rather than his predecessor's generous idea of treating the war as definitely at an end and concentrating national effort on the rebuilding of the Union. He found many supporters in congress, and their endorsement persuaded him to contemplate a very radical course. On one occasion he meditated the arrest of General Lee.

When the news of this plan came to General Grant, he immediately waited on President Johnson and informed him that Lee had honorably surrendered, and had been assured that he could devote himself to the welfare of the South without interruption or disturbance. The Northern general continued to the effect that the army, of which he was head, intended to see that these terms were carried out, and that if Johnson attempted to interfere with Lee he would be arrested himself. This was the end of Johnson's designs on the liberty of the Southern commander.—Detroit News.

Hibernian Hyperbole.

In one of our New England summer resorts lives, during the summer, a family having four small children of assorted sizes, and several dogs. In the employ of the household is an Irish maid, whose duties include keeping the living rooms of the house in order. Early in the season the streets of the village are treated to a coat of tar, a proceeding attended by much tracking about of the dogs. Nora's distress of mind, after one of these experiences, is great, for she is a clean-souled soul who has the appearance of her domain much at heart. When the untidiness was at its worst one day she went in search of her mistress and complained:

"I give you me word, Mrs. Brown, that for every want the boys and thim dogs has gone out of this house this day they're come in twenty-five times!"

Made Famous Tea Shipment.

In Gracechurch lane, an obscure byway just outside one of London's busiest commercial centers, American tourists may see over a grocer's store the "sign of the crown and three gilt sugar loaves" that marks the location of the shop whence the tea was shipped in 1773 that ultimately went overboard in Boston harbor during the world's famous tea party.

Only the sign, which was recently restored and which bears in big gold numerals "1850," the year the firm was established, is suggestive of remote times.

The grocer's shop, conducted by descendants of the firm's founders, over which the sign hangs, is now housed in a modern brick building. Inside, nothing distinguishes the place from thousands of similar places of business.

Silver Wedding.

Mrs. Tremper, June 20.—Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hornbech, in honor of their 25th wedding anniversary, gave a sumptuous repast to their friends and neighbors on June 10. The seven course dinner was served on the lawn under a most artistic bower of laurel and evergreens. The excellence of this banquet merits much praise. The merry makings consisted of impromptu speeches, singing and dancing. Mr. and Mrs. Hornbech led the grand march and Miss Peterson of Mamaroneck exhibited much talent in expression. Mr. and Mrs. Hornbech were the recipients of many handsome gifts. They entertained their guests with such skill that shafts of light were broken through on the eastern horizon. On Occasion.
We are reliably informed that the Society for the Suppression of Human Emotions has put an official ban on kissing. Kissing, says an advance tract, is dangerous. Infection lies in kissing; kissing is immoral; kissing is more frequently idiotic than not, and in any event kissing causes a lot of trouble. Yeah, brothers, yeah! But between us, for all the trouble kissing causes, we find it's worth it.—Richmond Times-Dispatch.

INTENSE INTEREST AT CONFERENCE

Hundreds Stood Outside in Rain at New Rochelle to Hear Appointment—The Rev. Mr. Clark Remains Here.

The African Methodist Episcopal Zion annual conference held at New Rochelle, N. Y., which closed Sunday night, June 18, went on record as one of the most successful conferences ever held by that body. There were over two thousand persons present to hear the reading of the conference appointments. The crowd that came was so dense that admittance had to be refused to hundreds because of lack of room, those unable to be admitted staying outside of the conference hall in inclement weather waiting to hear the final reports.

The reports of the presiding elders as to the progress made by the various churches of the conference during the past year were most gratifying. As reported by the Rev. Benjamin Judd the Hudson river district has shown a substantial gain. The Franklin Street A. M. E. Zion Church of this city stood high in the rank and Pastor E. O. Clark and his congregation were given great credit. As shown by the statistician, the Rev. Mr. Clark, $181,922.65 was raised from all sources for the year in the district. The report was highly applauded.

There were only a few changes in the Hudson River district. The appointments were:

Troy.—The Rev. H. W. Morrison, returned.

Hudson.—The Rev. J. E. Evans, returned.

White Plains.—The Rev. W. B. Rowden, from Catskill.

Yonkers.—The Rev. R. H. Oden, New York City.—The Rev. J. W. Brown.

Poughkeepsie.—The Rev. H. W. Allen, returned.

Newburgh.—The Rev. J. T. Matthews, returned.

Oryster Bay.—The Rev. C. Deever, from Middletown.

Middletown.—The Rev. A. H. Paxon.

Tarrytown.—The Rev. C. Fairfax, returned.

Coney Island.—The Rev. C. C. Taylor, from White Plains.

Cornwall and Beacon.—The Rev. H. D. White.

The return of the Rev. E. O. Clark to the Franklin A. M. E. Zion Church, this city, is pleasing to the members and the congregation of that church to all of whom it means considerable as well as to the citizens who have taken a great interest in the work of the pastor in behalf of his people. There is considerable work to be done not only on the church, but the personage which he will endeavor to carry to completion.

Cocoanut Oil Makes A Splendid Shampoo

If you want to keep your hair in good condition, be careful what you wash it with. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Multisided cocoanut oil shampoo (which is pure and entirely greaseless), is much better than anything else you can use for shampooing, as this can't possibly injure the hair.

Simply put two or three teaspoonfuls of Multisided in a cup of glass with a little warm water, then moisten your hair with water and rub it in. It will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather, and cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily, and removes every particle of dirt, dandruff and excess oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get Multisided cocoanut oil shampoo at any drug store. It is very cheap, and a few ounces is enough to last everyone in the family for months. Be sure your drug-gist gives you Multisided.—Advertisement.

HIGH SCHOOL TENNIS JUNE 24

The tennis team of Erasmus Hall High School, Brooklyn, holder of the metropolitan high school tennis championship, will play the Kingston High School at Forsyth Park courts Saturday morning, June 24, at 10 or 10:30 o'clock.

The Erasmus Hall team has about as enviable a record as any team of junior players could ever have. The mainstay of the team, Mohr, was runner-up in the Metropolitan Championship Singles match, which contest he put to the three full sets, winning one of the three sets in the match. The other players while not yet so prominent are declared by the New York press to be of unusual calibre, combining sportsmanship with fitness. The bringing of this team to the city is one of the greatest feats of the Athletic Association in this branch of sport.

As for the Kingston High team much may be said. Last year the team held the championship of the Central Hudson Valley, by defeating teams from Poughkeepsie, Newburgh, Hudson and Catskill, both in singles and doubles matches. Donald MacFadden, the present captain, has held this position for the past two years and is one of the best local players. Kenneth Hasbrouck and Randall Rose have each won at various times the junior championship of the city, thus becoming possessors of the trophy awarded by the local authorities. Westbrook Stelle was one of the winners in the seniors' doubles championship of the city, he and Robert Southwick having been the triumphant combination. Eric Brown is also a player of no mean ability and he is able to hold his own with dogged tenacity.

Saturday's match will consist of singles and doubles sets. The public is heartily invited to witness the contest.

OBSERVED "MASONIC NIGHT" AT ST. JAMES'S M. E. CHURCH.

Notwithstanding the downpour of rain on Sunday night, St. James's Methodist Church was well filled. It was "Masonic Night," observed by the local lodge and chapters of the Order of the Eastern Star, Kingston Lodge, No. 10, was splendidly represented. The music was particularly fine. The Masonic quartet assisted the regular choir and its rendering of the anthem, "God is my Guide" by Schubert was deeply appreciated. The feature of the musical program was a harp solo by Miss Frances Keeney. She rendered Hasselmann's "Priest" in a manner that delighted the large audience. Dr. Baragwanath, one of the chaplains of Kingston Lodge, preached the sermon, the text being "In the Beginning, God—Not to be Ministered Unto, but to Minister." The benediction was pronounced by the Rev. Dr. Boeve, of the First Dutch Church.

ULEN CLUB REACHES CULLEN IN LUCKY SEVENTH.

The Ulen baseball club scored its third straight victory last Sunday at Ulen Field, decisively defeating the Kingston All Stars by a score of 11 to 1. The game was nip and tuck up to the seventh inning, the score standing 2 to 1, but in this frame Cullen, the visitors' pitcher, who had allowed but four hits up to this time, weakened and the home club reached him for six runs. Whitney, the Ulen pitcher, was invincible all the way, allowing eight scattered hits and fanning twelve men. A one-handed catch by Trieler featured. Next Sunday the Ulen baseball club will meet the Olive Bridge team at the latter's grounds at 3:30 p. m.
